YOUNG DOCTOR OF COUNTY

DR. LINDAMANN, OF LITTLESTOWN DIES AFTER OPERATION.

Had Practiced Medicine at Two Taverns, Bonneville and Littlestown.

Dr. Rice H. Lindaman, one of Littlestown's most popular and well-known citizens, passed away at the West Side Sanitarium, York, on Tuesday, following an operation for appendicitis, aged 41 years, 4 months and 5 days. Dr. Lindaman had undergone an operation a week ago and at first a full recovery was anticipated, although the case was very serious from the beginning. A few days later his condition suddenly grew worse and although everything known to medical science was resorted to, death followed Tuesday afternoon. The young physician was a son of Rev. Dr. F. S. and Amelia Rice Lindaman, the latter deceased, and was born in Littlestown March 20, 1881. He attended the public schools of Littlestown and after graduation from the High School attended a private school taught by Prof. John E. Bahn at Hanover. This was followed by a two years' course in Ursinus College, after which he took up medicine at the Hahnemann College, Philadelphia, graduating with the class of 1904. He first practiced medicine at Two Taverns, Adams county, where he remained one year, going from there to Bonneville, where he remained a short time, after which he moved to Littlestown, where he enjoyed an extensive practice up until his fatal illness. He was a life-long member of Christ Reformed Church, near Littlestown, of which his father has been pastor for many years. He was a member of the Knights of the Mystic Chain, Order of Moose, and Order of Eagles. Dr. Lindaman was married to Miss Gertrude Little, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little, of Bonneville, June 21, 1908, who survives with two children, Francis John and Ethel Gertrude Lindaman. Miller, of Littlestown. Funeral was on Friday afternoon, services by Rev. Dr. M. J. Bubb, of near Bermudian; Mrs. Dale Kline, of near New Oxford; and Grace, at his home; his brothers, Frank Decker, of Hampton; William C. Decker, of near Gettysburg; and Melvin, at home.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Mary Fleming, of York, and Mrs. Joseph Hippensteel, of New Chester, also a brother, Thomas B. Bowers, of New Chester. Funeral was on Tuesday, services by Rev. Harry S. ### Gettysburg College Trustees Meet.

The Board of Trustees of Gettysburg College met in Gettysburg on Tuesday and determined a number of pending matters.

Resolutions were adopted expressing the thanks and deep appreciation of the Board of Trustees of the College for the splendid services of the Rev. Dr. J. B. Baker and those associated with him in the work of completing the million dollar drive for the College.

The number of alumni members of the Board was increased from six to eight and to allow the Maryland, West Pennsylvania, East Pennsylvania and Allegheny Synods of the Lutheran Church each two members on the Board of Trustees.

The resignation of Dr. E. M. Baxter as Professor of Romance Languages in the College was presented and accepted. The Board then elected E. H. Schurt, Ph.D., of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, as successor to Dr. Baxter.

Prof. Thomas L. Cline, of the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va., was elected as Professor of English and Argumentation, the new chair established at this meeting.

The Finance Committee of the Board of Trustees was authorized to secure an additional instructor in the Romance Languages. This action is made necessary by the large increase in the number of students at the local institution.

Charles T. Lark, Esq., of New York City, a graduate of College in the class of 1898, was elected a member of the Board of Trustees.

Report of County Schools.

County Superintendent W. Raymond Shank has sent to the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg his report of the schools of the county for year ending July 3, 1922, which contains the following interesting information:

Adams county had a total of 161 schoolhouses with 224 teachers during the past scholastic year. Of the total number of school buildings in use in Adams county, 152 housed elementary grades. The remaining nine are high school buildings.

Of the nine high schools throughout this county four are listed as first class. They are Gettysburg, Littlestown, Arendtsville Vocational and Biglerville. Fairfield is the only second class high school in the county; while fourth class high schools are found at York Springs, East Berlin, Abbottstown and New Oxford.

There are 145 elementary rural schools in Adams county and fifteen elementary schools within borough limits. The rural elementary schools listed consist of one-room schools taught by one teacher. The elementary schools in borough limits consist of the various grades from the first to the eighth, incorporated under one roof and having a teacher for almost every different grade. Five schools in the county are equipped with libraries. There were no junior high schools listed, according to the report.

The length of the term varies from 150 to 180 days, according to the report of Mr. Shank. Twenty-four school districts are listed with a scholastic year of 150 days; four having 160 days in their term and the remaining six districts have the full nine months' term. There are 34 school districts in Adams county, according to the recent report.

Of the 224 teachers in this county, 81 are male and 143 are female. Five of the men and 11 of the women hold college provisional teaching certificates; 18 men and 26 women have normal school certificates or diplomas; 23 men and 25 women hold permanent county, state or professional certificates, listed according to Section 1308 of the school code; and 16 men and 37 women hold class A certificates of the professional or emergency classification. Under class B certificates, there are 11 men and 43 women listed. One teacher in Adams county holds a temporary or permanent special certificate.

The majority of teachers in Adams county, both male and female, are graduates of normal schools. Forty are graduates of normal schools, whereas 15 are college graduates. One male teacher in the county has completed a year or more of graduate work. Eighteen teachers throughout the county have graduated only from high schools. Two completed the elementary courses.

Of the 224 teachers listed in the report, 155 have taught for more than three years. This is more than the total number of those who have been teaching one and two years and is highly commendable. Sixty-five teachers have been in their present positions in the county more than three years. Ninety-two have been teaching one year; fifty-one have taught two years and twenty-six have rounded out three years in their present positions.

There is one teacher of agricultural subjects in this county; two instructors of home economics and one music supervisor.

Salaries of the teaching staff of the Adams county schools range from $500 a year for teachers in elementary schools to $2500 to supervisors. Salaries of elementary teachers vary from $500 to $1200, while compensation of high school teachers' salaries range from $1000 to $2500.

Five men and two women (exclusive of principals) receive salaries of $1200 or more annually. Three principals in Adams county are paid from $2000 to $2500 a year.

Should Our Roads be Renamed?

The Lincoln Highway Association has suggested to the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce that the road connecting with the Lincoln Highway at Gettysburg be renamed. The Emmitsburg road and road from Gettysburg to Harrisburg was named several years ago as portion of a great coastwise road as the National Road, running from Washington to Harrisburg and projected northward to New York State and the New England States and southward to Richmond and beyond. If that is already the name of a great projected thoroughfare nothing would be gained by giving a portion of it another name. It would be better to adopt that name and so mark the road. It is true the name is somewhat confusing along with the better known National Highway westward through Maryland and West Virginia into Ohio. Instead of Chamber of Commerce change this it would be better to get in touch with the promoters of the National Road, and have the great coastwise thoroughfare renamed.

As far as other roads are concerned could there be any improvement on names our roads already have? Carlisle Road, Baltimore Pike, Hagerstown Road, Hanover Road, Taneytown Road. They describe accurately whither they are going. If the turns and corners of these roads were well marked that would help the traveler. But all these roads with their names have historical associations with the great battle and to rename and remark would make confusion here for the battlefield visitor. None of these considerations would apply to other towns, but the question facing Gettysburg is whether history at Gettysburg should be tampered with.

WEDDINGS OF PAST WEEK

HARRY TROXELL, MANAGER OF PHOTOPLAY MARRIES IN YORK.

Littlestown Has Two Weddings and One an Announcement of an Event a Year Ago.

Troxell-Garver.—Harry J. Troxell, manager of Photoplay Theatre, and Miss Tillie Garver, of York, were married last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, York, by Rev. Dr. Brown, pastor of that church. The couple were unattended. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Troxell left on a motor trip through New York State and Canada. They will reside in Gettysburg upon their return. Mr. Troxell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Troxell, of Baltimore street, and for the past ten years has been manager of the Photoplay Theatre. Mr. Troxell is a veteran of the World War, having been in the service more than a year. He entered the Army April 2, 1918, and was assigned to Camp Meade, Maryland, and thence to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., where he became connected with the medical department of the United States Army. On June 8, 1918, he sailed from New York to Liverpool, England. While overseas he was on detached duty with various field hospitals, including the 327th, 325th and 353rd, and then served with Base Hospital No. 45. Leaving St. Nazaire, France, on April 10, 1919, Mr. Troxell arrived in New York two weeks later and was honorably discharged from service at Camp Dix, N. J., April 25, 1919.

Miller-Parr.—Miss Esther C. Parr, daughter of Mrs. Adda Parr, of Littlestown, and Glenn Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Miller, Littlestown, were united in marriage in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Littlestown, at 6 o'clock Thursday morning of last week. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. H. Clay Bergstresser, the ring ceremony of the Lutheran Church being used. Miss Elsie Miller, sister of the bridegroom, played the wedding march from Loehngrin. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Adda Parr, of Littlestown, and of the late Amos Parr, D.D. She is a graduate of the Littlestown High School and for the past several years has been employed in the Littlestown post office. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Miller, of Littlestown. He is a graduate of the Littlestown High School and Pennsylvania State College. During the World War he served two years as a member of the 510th Infantry Band. He is now employed by the service department of the Westinghouse Co., Baltimore. The young couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping in a newly-furnished apartment in Baltimore.

Beall-Hopp.—Miss Rose Hopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hopp, of Emmitsburg, and Murphy Albert Beall, of Frederick, were quietly married last Thursday evening at St. Francis Xavier Rectory, by the pastor, Rev. Mark Stock. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Irvin, of Gettysburg.

Ankle Broken in Auto Accident.

Maurice Miller, East Middle street, battlefield guard on West Confederate Avenue, had his ankle broken on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Emory Dougherty, Stevens street, had driven out West Middle street to West Confederate Avenue and as she was turning the corner found herself in front of another car coming toward her car. To avoid a collision she turned to the right. In doing so she ran into a cannon ball guard, knocked the ball off the base, and tore the base out of the ground. This injured the steering gear of the car so that it could not be controlled and the car started for the fence, in the path of Mr. Miller. Seeing his danger he tried to get over the fence and had his right leg over the pipe fence when the car struck his left ankle, crushing it. He was at once taken to the Annie M. Warner Hospital when an X-ray revealed a compound fracture, which was reduced and it is expected that he will recover with use of his limb.

The car was badly damaged in striking cannon ball guard and iron fence, the front axle being bent and the steering apparatus damaged.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Plank, of Baltimore, formerly of Gettysburg, are spending ten days with friends here.

Banks Install Burglar Alarms.

Three Gettysburg banking institutions have installed within past ten days the O. B. McClintock Company of Indianapolis, Ind., burglar alarm system. The First National Bank, the Citizens' Trust Company and the Gettysburg National Bank will have this new system which is said to be the most perfect system yet devised to protect banks from day and night burglaries.

The whole system is exceedingly complex and hundreds of feet of wire are used throughout the vaults and banking houses. The wires are arranged on a closed circuit so that if one is cut or tampered with at any place, a contact is formed, and the alarm is immediately sounded. The side walls, ceiling and floor on the inside of the vault in each of the banks is covered with a network of fine wires set two inches apart over the entire surface. Each wire is a complete circuit so that in case an attempt is made to cut into the vault from the outside, the circuit is broken and the big alarm bell, placed at a conspicuous place on the front of the bank outside, is sounded.

Within the door of each vault are a number of points covered with wax and should an acetylene torch be used in an attempt to cut through to the combination, the heat of the torch melts the wax, brings two wires together and sounds the alarm.

Windows and doors are likewise protected, making it almost impossible to gain admission to the bank after the close of the day's business without sounding the alarm. At convenient places near the windows of the employees of the banks and in the director's rooms, foot buttons are located, which may easily be pressed, thereby setting the large gong ringing. These buttons are especially desirable in event of a daylight holdup, the slightest pressure of the foot sounding the alarm.

The large gong is located in a specially constructed copper box on the outside of the bank. Burglars, who attempt to tamper with the bell or try to remove the box from its position, will find that the alarm is set off. All wires when cut, either inside or outside the bank, flash current to the alarm which is set ringing.

A seven-day clock installed inside the vault is the heart of the entire burglar alarm system. All wires are connected with this clock in which are located the batteries which furnish power for the system. Here are also located indicators which, in the event of an attempt to burglarize, show at a glance where the attempt was made. The clock and its mechanism also regulate the length of time the alarm bell rings outside should the system be tampered with.

The clock is also regulated so that in case employees of the bank fail to lock the vault before leaving the banking house at the close of business, the alarm is set ringing at 10 o'clock.

Bennett Malin.

Elsie Singmaster in her latest novel, Bennett Malin, has portrayed as the main character of her book a consummate fool of a man, a know-it-all, who attends a Lutheran Seminary, who marries his boarding house keeper's daughter because he has decided a minister should have a wife. He is utterly without sentiment and principle. He comes into money and plays the slacker by quitting the ministry. He steals the best thing that is printed under his name. He leads a supremely selfish life sacrificing his wife, and he is in the depths to such an extent that he can not rejoice in the accomplishment of his son along lines in which he failed.

It is a study of several generations of Malins, of heredity and environment, in the grip of the same ambition, and how the false environment of one has led to failure. There will be readers who will want a fool's reading according to the sowing. The local coloring is well worked in. The description of the Theological Seminary on the ridge suggests some other place than the name given and beautiful old Cambridge, Mass., is given an interpretation that will be a delight to its devotees. The book is published by Houghton Mifflin Company, 1 Park St., Boston, and price is $2.00.

Recovers After Taken from Cistern.

Harold Wagner, four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wagner, of Railroad street is playing around today as lively as a cricket, yet when rescued from a cistern by Donald C. Stallsmith on Thursday of last week little hope was entertained for it seemed that life was extinct. The boy was playing around in the pantry of his home and was observed by a neighbor to suddenly disappear. The neighbor called to the mother and the trap door above cistern in pantry was found open. Donald C. Stallsmith was then called in and he secured a rake and states there was no evidence of a child being in cistern when he put the handle of rake in cistern, but finally he touched something soft and reversing the rake he pulled the body to the surface and lifted it out. It is believed that the child had been in the water for at least ten minutes when rescued. Apparently life had fled. Mr. Stallsmith placed the boy on his stomach in a way that head hung downward and commenced to rub him and move his arms and after ten minutes work the boy began to breathe. He was then taken to the Annie M. Warner Hospital, and in a short time recovered and is to-day as lively a lad as one wants to find for a boy of his age.

Aug. 9 Last Day to Make Claim.

There are a large number of veterans throughout the country, probably thousands of them, who have neglected to apply for a certificate of injury. The failure to obtain this certificate will militate against the veterans in making application for compensation under the Veterans' Bureau, in the event that he fails to apply for compensation within five years from date of discharge. Therefore the Director of the Bureau, Col. Charles R. Forbes, is urging veteran organizations to advise their members of the necessity of securing such a certificate.

The certificate of injury must be obtained prior to August 9, 1922, as provided in Section 306 of the War Risk Insurance Act as amended August 9, 1921. This section of the Act covers the limitations of the right of an ex-soldier to obtain compensation for a disability resulting from a disease or injury of service origin unless the disease or injury has resulted in a disability within one year from date of discharge, or unless the discharged soldier or sailor in question can obtain from the Director of the United States Veterans' Bureau a certificate of injury within one year from the date of separation from the service or prior to August 9, 1922. The Director of the Veterans' Bureau desires to inform persons who may have sustained an injury or disease in the service, likely to result in death or disability, as to their right to certificate of injury and also as to the limitations of the statute which make it imperative that they have such a certificate if compensation should be payable from such injury.

It is not necessary to file a claim for compensation or to take any formal action other than the writing of a letter to the Director, United States Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D. C., giving the name, rank, organization, date of enlistment and discharge and stating the circumstances under which the disease or injury in question was incurred.

Heretofore not much emphasis has been placed on Section 306 of the Act, the reason being that the five years mentioned therein has not run for many of the discharged service men who desire to claim their right under this Act rather than under the Pension Law. Those who were discharged between April 6, 1917, and Oct. 1917, have an optional right, that is they can either apply to the Pension Bureau or to the Veterans' Bureau if they apply within the statutory period, namely, within five years. Persons discharged after October 6, 1917, will have no right whatever unless they make claim five years from date of their discharge. An example of that is: "A man discharged from the Navy on a surgeon's certificate of disability Dec. 1st, 1917, files claim with the Veterans' Bureau at any one of the district offices on Dec. 15, 1922. His claim must necessarily be disallowed because he has not applied for compensation within the five year period, unless he has a certificate of injury, which as stated above, he must obtain before August 9, 1922."

The above statement also relates to application for compensation because of service connected deaths. Parents who are not receiving compensation must show dependency within five years after the death of the person on account of whose service claim is made.

Section 315 of the War Risk Insurance Act provides that no person admitted into the military or naval forces of the United States after Feb. 9, 1922, shall be entitled to the compensation or any other benefits or privileges provided under the provisions of Article III of the War Risk Insurance Act as amended. Should a claim be filed by a discharged man who enlisted after Feb. 9, 1922, regardless of the date of discharge, at the present time he is without protection. Several Acts are pending in Congress to cover such class of claimants, but as the statutes now stand there is no act to protect them, neither the Veterans' Bureau nor the Pension Office has any jurisdiction over them.

These facts are called to the attention of the ex-service man in order that they may not lose any right or privileges under the War Risk Insurance Act as amended August 9, 1921.

The neglect or failure to apply for these certificates of injury under the circumstances mentioned above will work hardships on many veterans. The Harrisburg Office of the Veterans' Bureau is located on the Fifth Floor of the Yoffee Building and the officers there will be glad to render any assistance and give any information in connection with the above.

Dick's Dam News.

A permanent road will be built from the Carlisle pike to the iron bridge, at Dick's woods, along the Big Conowago next summer. At a meeting of the Dick's Dam Welfare Association, recently organized by campers along the Big Conowago, between The Forks and the Waldheim dam, held at Cafe Dicks on Saturday evening, a representative of the State Highway Department promised state aid next year.

The road leaves the pike one-half mile south of the stone bridge, leads in and passes the road to Waldheim, then winds around until it reaches the creek at the iron bridge. The distance is more than one mile. The road now is of red dirt and, in rainy weather and in the winter time, is hard to travel. The new road will be of hard macadam.

The state will pay one-half of the cost while the township and campers will make up the remaining half of the cost. At Saturday's meeting three of the Hamilton township supervisors, Messrs. Hooper, Mummert and Stock, met with the association officers and the state highway man. It is believed that work will begin in the spring of 1923, as no funds are available now.

Supervisors will begin repairs to the road this week, pipe for culverts having been provided by the campers. The road will be dragged at regular intervals during the rest of the summer.

Charles E. Miller, of McSherrystown, owner of the tract of woodland along the Conowago, known as Dick's woods, extending from the bridge to the Country Club, is planning to turn that woods into a public park. He intends to apply to the state for a charter for a public park in the near future. If it is granted, he will place certain improvements upon the tract.

These improvements will include a large bath house and a boat livery. Swings and slides and other amusements will be provided for children. Benches and tables will also be erected and it is planned to turn the woods into an ideal picnic ground. On the other hand, the public park charter will permit the owner of the woods to protect it against injury especially to the trees and game which are there.

The woods has long been used as a stopping place for persons who wish to spend a day along the creek and who have no cottage of their own to which to go. During the summer months the woods are crowded every Sunday. Sometimes several hundred people spend the day there. Naturally harm has been done to the woods in some instances. It is the owner's wish to provide a place where for a small return, the camper for a day may have the advantage of a well equipped park and on the other hand to insure himself against the intruder who may harm his property.

The improvements will probably not materialize until the opening of the next camping season.

1922 Hunters' Licenses Ready.

As a matter of information, attention is called to the fact that the season on birds commonly known as blackbirds will open Aug. 1st and will run continuously until November 30, Sundays excepted. In 1921 it was not possible to secure the hunters' licenses before the opening of the blackbird season, but every county in the State has received its 1922 quota of hunters' licenses and all persons must secure hunter's license before hunting for blackbirds, except on lands on which they reside and cultivate as either the owner or lessee, or as a member of the family of such owner or lessee, also residing upon and cultivating lands, or on lands immediately adjacent upon securing permission from adjacent owners. The hunter's license law will be enforced strictly.

Training season for dogs: The law relative to training dogs does not permit training until September 1st. On and after that date it is legal to train dogs on any game except deer, elk, and wild turkeys until the 1st of March next following, Sundays excepted, so long as firearms usually raised at arms length and fired from the shoulder are not carried while so training and no injury is done to the game pursued. The penalty for permitting dogs to chase game prior to September 1st is $10 for each day and $5 for each bird or rabbit killed.

The sportsmen throughout the State took a deeper interest in caring for their dogs this year during the breeding season than ever before. This is very encouraging, and we are confident that thousands of rabbits, game birds, and song and insectivorous birds have been saved from destruction because of this interest taken by dog owners. Help to conserve wild life; it is yours.

Water Systems.

The use of improved water systems on Pennsylvania farms has increased greatly in the last few years. In many cases, a complete system is installed, including bath room conveniences and proper equipment for the disposal of sewerage. There are, however, 40,000 farms in Pennsylvania that have running water in the house, but no bath facilities nor adequate system of sewerage disposal. A septic tank on each of these farms would serve as a sanitary method of disposing of the sewerage, and would probably cost less in the end than the unsanitary cesspool which is a constant menace to health. It is an easy matter to build an efficient septic tank if the proper form is used in casting concrete. The tanks and connections should not cost more than $30 to $75 including the farmer's labor. The septic tank recommended by the Adams County Farm Bureau and endorsed by the State Department of Health has been found most satisfactory on each of 24 farms where one has been installed under the direction of the Agricultural Extension Service at State College. In some counties the standard forms used in making the tank have been retained by the Farm Bureau, and have been used in the construction of at least 25 additional tanks.

Cherry Trees Pray to Fungus.

The Bureau of Plant Industry of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture has been deluged with letters from owners of cherry trees, seeking information concerning an unusual disease from which the trees are suffering. Practically every cherry tree in the central and southern portions of the state is affected. The leaves of the cherry trees have turned yellow and in many cases the leaves have fallen from the trees. These leaves are affected by the common leaf spot or shot-hole fungus which is so poisonous to the leaf tissue that even a few spots on a leaf early in the season will cause it to turn yellow and fall off.

The present season has had so much moist weather that the fungus has spread readily and has affected a far greater proportion of leaves than usual.

This fall of leaves due to this leaf spot is very damaging because the fruit buds for next year are now forming and the loss of foliage at this time means weak buds and less fruit.

The disease can be controlled by spraying or dusting (1) when the petals fall (2) two weeks later, (3) just after the fruit is picked. Either lime sulphur, 1-40, or a 90-10 sulfur dust will give satisfactory results when applied at the times stated.

How to Control Typhoid.

With 207 cases of typhoid fever in June, 1922, as against 165 in the same month of 1921, and 164 in 1920, special effort should be made for early diagnosis of this disease and for the location of the source of infection. The commonest source of infection is drinking water.

In Mount Lebanon, Allegheny Co., a spring used for drinking purposes more than 60 years, according to old residents, was purchased by a business man because of its abundant flow of pure water. Shortly thereafter his two daughters fell ill, but he refused to accept a diagnosis of typhoid fever, insisting they had pneumonia. The attending physician, his daughter, and two other children became ill and laboratory tests proved typhoid fever.

The spring water was tested and found to contain sewage germs. The owner was requested to close the spring for public use. This he did, placing a padlock on the springhouse door, but continued using the water himself, claiming that since it was been used for 60 years it was good enough for him. He joined the victims of typhoid developing a most severe case made worse by intestinal hemorrhages.

Dr. J. Moore Campbell, of the State Health Department, said the immediate closing of this spring prevented a wide-spread epidemic, but that such a measure is only possible when the physician recognizes early that he is dealing with typhoid fever, thus making possible prompt location of the source from which the infection comes. "Many epidemics of typhoid could have been prevented had the first cases been promptly diagnosed," he continued. "Early diagnosis makes early search for the cause possible and the sooner it is located and eliminated the fewer people will be exposed to it."

"Any case of continued fever without evident cause should be looked upon as a probable case of typhoid fever, and the physician should employ every means for reaching quickly a definite conclusion. There are three laboratory tests which help him to decide. A blood culture is the most desirable one because it gives the earliest information. Nine times out of ten the typhoid germs can be found in the blood during the first week of illness. In the stool they cannot be found with any certainty until the second or third week, and the Widal test is not positive until the 10th day of fever or later. Since during the first week, the patient presents no symptoms exclusively pertaining to typhoid fever, blood culture is the only means of diagnosing without delay."

Dr. Edward Martin, State Health Commissioner, is urging blood culture as a means of early diagnosis in typhoid fever, and at the recent instruction camp at Mont Alto the county medical directors of the state were drilled in blood culture technique not only that they may take these specimens themselves but that they may be able to instruct physicians in their county who may apply for their assistance.

When the blood is taken and sent to the state laboratory, a prompt examination and report will be made. Tubes for taking the blood can be had by applying to the Division of Supplies, State Department of Health, Harrisburg.

Major Frank Lee Graham, Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Gettysburg College from 1916 to 1918, died at Richmond, Va., on Thursday of last week. He had been ill since April following an attack of angina pectoris. Major Graham entered the army as a private in 1880 and was commissioned at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, serving in the Santiago campaign and in the Philippine Insurrection. Later he served in Porto Rico for eight years and was retired from active service. In 1915 he became commandant of Cadets at Fort Union Military Academy in Virginia. In 1916 he was commissioned a Major and detailed to Gettysburg College as Professor of Military Science and Tactics and was here for two years making many warm friends among our people. After leaving here he was stationed at a camp in Georgia, then at Fort Douglas, Utah, then at a post in South Dakota and was retired two years ago and since then has been residing in Washington, D. C. He leaves his widow, two sons and one daughter: Gordon Graham, one of the sons, was formerly a student at Gettysburg Academy and is now in his third year at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

W. O. Wolfe died at his home in Asheville, N. C., Tuesday night, July 11. He had been in declining health for some years and his death was not unexpected. He was born in York Springs on April the 10th, 1821, and served the government in an important capacity during the Civil War. Following the end of hostilities he migrated to Asheville where for over forty years he conducted a monument and tombstone business. He leaves a wife, three sons and two daughters. Edgar Wolfe, of York Springs, is a nephew of the deceased.

Miss Lizzie Day died at the home of her brother, Henry Day, of York Springs, last Saturday evening from paralysis aged about 67 years. Since that time he has been making his home with his children. He married Miss Anna M. Ogden, of Gettysburg, in 1864. He is survived by nine children, all living in the West and one sister, Mrs. John F. Currans, formerly of Gettysburg, now residing in Shippensburg.

Miss Kate Keady, for many years a resident of Fairfield, died Sunday evening at Gordonville, Lancaster county, in her 80th year. Two years ago while living at Fairfield, Miss Keady fell, breaking a hip, and this accident, it is believed, hastened her death. For the past year she has been residing with her cousin, Mrs. Fannie Rehms, of Gordonville, at whose home she died. Miss Keady was born in Lancaster county but came with her parents to Fairfield when a child. She is the last member of her family. ### Winners of State Scholarships.

As a result of the competitive examinations conducted by the Department of Public Instruction for State Scholarships, eighty young people from the high schools of Pennsylvania have won their way into the higher institutions of the State. The scholarships are worth $100 a year, for a period of four years, and are good for courses leading to an A.B. or B.S. degree in any college or university in the State, approved by the State Council of Education. One scholarship is awarded to each county of the State, except Luzerne, Philadelphia and Allegheny—in these, a scholarship is awarded to each senatorial district.

Ten hundred and eighty-three (1083) competitors took the examination. Philadelphia led with 195; Allegheny had 95; Luzerne, 48; Lackawanna, 30; and Chester, 29. Forest was the only county without a candidate.

All applicants were compelled to take English and American History; but were permitted to select the other subject from Mathematics, Science or Foreign Language. The highest mark (290 out of a possible 300) was made by Carl Reimer, of the Harrisburg Tech. High School.

8,000 HIKING CLUBS IN GREATER NEW YORK

They Swing Along Highways and Through Woods in Groups of Varying Size.

New York.—One must walk now-days to be in the swim. Statistics gleaned from the out-door departments of the newspapers, from the Boy Scout and Campfire Girls' organizations, from the Y. M. C. A. branches and kindred bodies, from scores of amateur athletic clubs and from the leading dealers in sporting goods, indicate that

"Best Walkers Make Best Citizens," Says Mayor of New York.

today there are no less than 8,000
hiking clubs in Greater New York, with a total membership of more than a quarter of a million men and women, who are keeping themselves in the pink of condition and experiencing the real joy of living by getting regularly out into the open country with no other means of locomotion than their God-given legs.

The city of New York has taken official notice of the movement. On three occasions recently Mayor Hylan has congratulated the boys and girls of the public schools upon their enthusiasm in taking up the new sport of hiking.
In his dedication of the great new public playground in the Bronx the other day Mayor Hylan extolled the athletic tendencies of the boys and girls and impressed upon them that there was no better or more profitable way in which they could pass their vacations and utilize their holidays than by the excursions into field and forest of their walking clubs. He gave the same message to the Amateur Athletic Union of Brooklyn a few days later, and when a club of East Side boys and girls visited him at city hall preparatory to a hike to the tomb of Roosevelt at Oyster Bay he assured them that the best walkers among them would make the best citizens.

Walk and Be Well

No less enthusiastic a champion of the walking game is Dr. Royal S.
Copeland, city health commissioner.
"The benefit to health and the safeguard to morals to be found in long walks," said Dr. Copeland in an interview, "are too apparent to speak of them. If one takes long walks alone it is well, for he walks the road of health, but if he takes long walks in company it is better for he adds the tonic of companionship to his exercise.
Walking is the one form of exercise in which there is the minimum risk of overdoing it. In short, I consider walking the most beneficial of all exercises and it is never out of season."

"Never in my life-time," said Edward R. Wilbur, manager of a nationally known sporting goods store, "have I known such a demand as now for outdoor garments and shoes and stockings and appliances for the tourist's luncheon box. The rapid spread and tremendous popularity of the walking-club idea has no parallel in our experience."

"The hiker can make his requisite just what he feels like spending. Really, there are only two or three articles indispensable to hiking—thick walking shoes that allow lots of room, thick woolen socks and clothing that will give freedom of limb. He should have a canvas or leather musette bag, such as the soldiers used in France.

The Cow in the Knapsack

"To get the real beauty and joy out of hiking luncheon should be carried and prepared and eaten in the open.
Fried and broiled a few slices of bacon, some coffee, a can of condensed milk and a case of chocolate furnish high-powered fuel for the hiker and are readily and happily assimilated even by those who in their pre-hiking days were afflicted with distinctive apparatus so feeble as to balk at crackers and milk. Fortunately for the hiker, he can replenish his simple larder at any cross-roads store and provide himself with the most nutritious and appetizing food in a form that can be conveniently carried.

"No single development in the problem of food transportation for the hunter, fisherman, hiker and all lovers of the out-of-doors can compare with the gift bestowed by the man who first found the way to make condensed milk, thereby putting a dairy in every man's knapsack. Before long there will be a national association of hikers, and Gail Borden will be its patron saint. Such an association could do much to encourage the spread of the most beneficial and universal of all outdoor pastimes, map out interesting routes, secure the establishment of shelters, rest-stations, and camp sites at suitable locations, and insure the rights of pedestrians on country roads."

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

It's usually a sign of sick kidneys, especially if the kidney action is dis-ordered, passages scanty or too frequent. Don't wait for more serious troubles. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Gettysburg man's testimony.
John H. Waddle, 704 S. Washington St., says: "I was all out of fix six years ago with disordered kidneys.
I was out a lot in damp weather and as a result had a pretty hard time of it for a while with my back. Darting pains caught me right across my hips and half the time I didn't know how I was going to get out of bed, my back was so sore and lame in the morning. My back gave out all together when I started to lift anything. My strength left me after working only a little while and my kidneys were so affected that the secretions were thick and poorly colored. I was feeling all out of trim when a druggist in York, Pa., recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me.
A couple boxes of Doan's eased up the pains in my back and restored my kidneys to normal."

Twelve Years in Business Without a "Sale."

is the enviable record of Haines. The Shoe Wizard. Our method is to put the right price on the right goods at the start.

We don't hear from one year to another a customer says: "That is too much or too high. I can buy it cheaper." The reason for this we understand ourselves, and with only a small even profit added makes our prices under.

We believe and our business which each year's sales being larger than the previous year show—we don't need catch word sales: cunning devices: make believe bargains, when we have the shoes at 50c to $2.00 a pair. Saving to our customers (whenever they come) they know it, and if you are not one of our customers go into any one of Our Stores in York, Hanover, Columbia, Gettysburg and other towns of Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia (where all prices are alike) and you will readily see why we need never have a "sale" in all our years in business.

Our Highest Price is $3.98. Why pay more.
